Born and raised in Huntingdon, a small town outside of Montreal, Canada; Baird has been painting full time and specializing in watercolors for the last fifteen years.

For the last two and a half years, he has been working on his most recent theme; " For the Love of the Game ", depicting the great game of Baseball.

His work is recognized for it's unique watercolor style and dynamic compositions. His paintings are collected by both sports and art enthusiasts alike. He was recently selected by Major League Baseball Properties, to illustrate an article in the 1992 Major League Baseball All Star Program.

Baird is currently living in Montreal, and painting full time in his studio.
